AEC Chairman Also Favors Treaty Signing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, testified today that underground testing will permit a wide range of nuclear weapons development, including warheads for antismissile defense.

As the third witness at Senate hearings, Seaborg strongly backed earlier testimony from Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that ratification of the limited test ban treaty would be in the best interests of the United States.

The treaty would prohibit nuclear testing in the atmosphere, in outer space, and under water, but it would not bar continued testing underground.

One of the questions some senators have raised is whether the treaty would seriously handicap U.S. development of missile defenses.

Seaborg said "it appears technically feasible to test underground up to several hundred kilotons and perhaps, with more experience and greater ingenuity, to even higher levels."

"This would permit a wide range of development including complete development and proof-test of warheads for battlefield, air defense, antismissile, and anti-submarine use."

He also said that "promising applications of nuclear explosives for peaceful purposes will be developed and demonstrated under the treaty."

Garland to Get a New Plant

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—An aluminum fabricating industry has agreed to locate a $1.5 million plant at Hot Springs if Garland County voters approve a bond issue to finance its construction.

Plans of the unidentified firm were announced Tuesday by Lon Weyland, president of the Garland County Industrial Development Corporation.

County Judge Lon Warneke said a $1.5 million amendment 49 bond issue would be voted on Sept. 17. The issue would carry a 3-mill tax.

Three hundred men would be employed in the 90,000 square foot plant in the manufacture of aluminum extrusions Weyland said the plant would be located in the new 156-acre industrial park five miles southeast of Hot Springs.

Bastrop, La., officers took custody of Redwine, who collected 13 criminal counts in southeast Arkansas and northeast Louisiana, will face Louisiana charges of robbery and aggravated assault first.

Redwine was apprehended Saturday night in a wooded area near Peunint Hill, nine miles north of Hamburg. He had escaped from the Chicot County Jail at Lake Village July 29 while being held on burglary and grand larceny charges.

Phillip Fisher, 35, of Eudora, an escapee from the Cummins State Prison Farm, who escaped with him from the Chicot County Jail, was caught last week and returned to the prison farm. He still faces burglary and grand larceny charges.

Redwine, 28, of McGeehe, faces charges of car theft, burglary and grand larceny, speeding, wreckless driving and carrying a concealed weapon. He was arrested after he wrecked a car stolen near Hamburg.

Before taking that car, Towler said, Redwine had stolen another car at a point in Louisiana, then abandoned it near the Arkansas-Louisiana border.

4 Year Term For Governor Suggested

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Rep. Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, who has been mentioned as a potential candidate for governor, said today that Arkansas should join a national trend toward one four-year "gubernatorial" term without possibility of succession.

Croxton told a Pine Bluff civic club that this would eliminate "the threat of increased power in the governor's office."

It was the first time Croxton had advocated this particular reform, although he has called for numerous other reforms in state government in a series of speeches around the state.

Croxton said several states are re-organizing the executive branch of state government and consolidating its duties.

"This eliminates waste, pinpoints responsibility on the governor, but at the same time increases his power," Croxton said. "To eliminate the threat of increased power in the governor's office, more and more states are putting a limitation of four years on his tenure."

This promotes responsibility and economy and curbs the threat of runaway executive power, he said.

The four-year term would reduce the amount of campaign contributions and, consequently, the number of favors the governor is obliged to pass out once he is in office.

Another advantage of the four-year term, Croxton said, would be a better chance for the governor to put into effect a long-range program.

Some 306 tourists were served Hope watermelon Monday, representing 22 states, including Hawaii.

Race Rioters In Chicago Get Blunt Warning

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO (AP) — Police Supt. O.W. Wilson served blunt notice on racial demonstrators today that "we will meet force with force."

He spoke out after a series of disorders — the latest Tuesday at a South Side school construction site in which four policemen and a woman were injured.

Wilson issued a statement in response to accusations of police brutality. He said "agglitators who are throwing bricks and using knives to injure policemen are the first to cry 'police brutality'."

Wilson said policemen have a duty under the law to take into custody demonstrators who block vehicles. And, he added, if they kick and bite and struggle the officers must use reasonable force to subdue them.

"We have not and will not interfere with peaceful picketing," he said. "However, we will meet force with force and I want everyone to understand that."

Wilson urged responsible leaders of Negro groups to curb lawless activities. He blamed "irresponsible fringe elements" for this summer's trouble.

"There are people who want to be arrested because they want publicity," he said.

Asked at a news conference if Dick Gregory, a Negro night club performer who has been arrested on the picket lines twice this week, could be classed as a responsible leader, the superintendent replied that he is not aware that Gregory is a leader of any group.

Pickets returned this morning to the mobile school site where disorders recurred Tuesday.

Four policemen and one woman were hit. One officer, struck on the forehead with a piece of concrete, was reported in fair condition in a hospital.

Task force commander Robert J. Lynsky, head of the police force at the site where 19 mobile classrooms are to be installed, was hit by a flying brick. He was not injured.

"This is no longer a demonstration," Lynsky said. "It is approaching the dimensions of a riot. I will no longer tolerate these rabble rousers and brick throwers."

About 50 persons were arrested during Tuesday's demonstration, the second day in a row of violence at the school site. Nearly 50 others were arrested Monday. Most of the persons arrested are Negroes.

Integration leaders said the picketing will continue.

Demonstrators say the classrooms foster de facto segregation in Chicago's schools and that Negro and white children should share each school in Chicago.

The Board of Education says the mobile classrooms are planned for the picketed site and "they'll stay there."

Skunk Is Rabid

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A skunk captured near Springdale last month bit two persons who tried to tame it and has been found rabid, the State Health Department said Tuesday. Dr. Harvie R. Willis, director of veterinary medicine for the department, said the victims were a boy, 15, and a man, 52. He did not identify them.

POLE PROTESTERS — Two integrationists, protesting the setting up of mobile school classrooms in a southside Chicago area, perch atop a utility pole as police try to coax them down. The protesters were identified as Wayne Yancey, left and Syble Bearskin.

Water Creek Plans Drive-in Meet

A revival meeting will start at the Water Creek Church, on Old Highway 67, Monday, August 19 and will continue through Saturday, August 24. The Rev. Gene Shoemaker will preach each night at 7:30 o'clock. This is a drive-in meeting, everyone is invited come and sit in their cars, according to Mrs. S. M. Bristow.

NLR to Discuss Airbase Students

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The North Little Rock school board is scheduled to discuss at its regular meeting Thursday night admission of children of Negro airmen stationed at Little Rock Air Force Base to previously all-white schools this year.

Informed sources said Tuesday the district probably admitted the students, but board members declined to discuss the matter.

Lt. Gen. David Wade, Second Air Force Commander, said Monday a recent Pentagon directive ordering base commanders to ascertain the policy of school boards regarding children of Negro military personnel has been complied with.

Wade told newsmen, "It is my understanding they have an indication of what the plans are for Little Rock, North Little Rock and Pulaski County." The general was on a visit to the base.

Last week the Pulaski County Rural School Board agreed to accept children of Negro airmen living off the base, just as it has done in the past with Negro children living on the base. This would affect four Negro families living in Jacksonville.

G&F Takes Bids on Buildings

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Con-Ark Builders Co., of Conway has submitted an apparent low bid of $28,461 on a contract for construction of a headquarters building for the state Game and Fish Commission at the Camp Robinson Wildlife Area in Faulkner County east of Lake Conway.

15% Income Tax Slash Approved by Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee voted today for an income tax rate slash estimated by the Treasury to average 15½ per cent for most taxpayers.

The Treasury's latest proposal on individual tax rates, ranging from 14 to 70 per cent, was accepted for inclusion in a bill the House is expected to act on by early September. The present range of rates is 20 to 91 per cent.

The committee recessed before taking up the corporate rate question. The Treasury has recommended a reduction from 52 to 48 per cent in this field.

Also approved today was the timing suggested by the administration—two-thirds of the individual rate reduction to go into effect Jan. 1, 1964, and the remainder a year later.

The committee defeated by one vote—13-12—a Republican motion that would have made the second part of the cut depend on holding the public debt to a specified limit.

Before today's committee action, Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., senior Republican member on the committee, was openly skeptical about President Kennedy's plans to balance the budget.

Rainmaker Was Taking a Short Nap

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—A distraught woman telephoned the Paragould sheriff's office Tuesday afternoon and said she had found a man dead in a truck with the motor running.

Sheriff Woodrow Davidson sped to the scene, investigated, and told the woman:

"That's just the rainmaker taking a nap."

Sure enough, Homer Berry of North Little Rock was grabbing some shut-eye in the cab of his pickup truck while his rainbarrel hummed away on the truck bed. He runs the barrel from the truck battery.

He was paid $1,000 earlier Tuesday as a down-payment on a 1.5 inch rain which is to come in the next week. If the rain covers most of Greene County, Berry will get another $1,000.

Berry says he sends silver iodide particles into the clouds by heating coke soaked in a silver iodide solution in a barrel on his truck.

He came to Paragould from a rainmaking job in Manila, where he was paid $1,000 to bring three inches of rain. He didn't get a second $1,000 because Manila got only one inch of rain.

Van Buren County to Vote on Bonds

CLINTON, Ark. (AP)—Petitions bearing more than 1,080 names have been turned in to Van Buren County Judge John H. Johnston asking for an election on a bond issue of an undetermined amount.

The bonds would help finance construction of a nursing home and public health center and improvements of the county hospital at Clinton. Some $250,000 in federal Hill-Burton matching funds also would be used to finance the projects.

Johnson has not yet called the election.

Deadly Gas Slows Rescue Operations

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Rescuers waited today for ventilation to clear deadly gases before resuming the search for three miners trapped and presumed dead 380 to 450 feet below ground.

Trapped in the Fellin Coal Co. mine near Shepton, about 15 miles from Hazleton Tuesday, were Louis Bova, 42, Pattersonville; David Fella, 58, Shepton; and Henry Throne, 48, Hazleton. The slope where they were working was filled with tons of coal and rock.

Mine officials indicated there was no hope the men survived.

H. B. Charnbury, state secretary of mines, suspended rescue attempts after workers were forced back by deadly gas and passages blocked by rock, coal and debris Charnbury ordered the walls shored to prevent another cave-in.

Four Drown Trying to Save Another

CARRYVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Two sets of brothers drowned in the swift waters of a flood control ditch Tuesday while trying to save Larry Mack Massey, 14, Massey, a brother to two of the victims, was saved.

The victims were brothers J. Allen Massey, 17, and Gerald Wayne Massey, 20, and their cousins Barney Eldon Massey, 22, and Alvin Eugene Massey, 21. Larry Mack was a brother to J. Allen and Gerald Wayne.

Larry Mack clung to a floating log until Larry Gene Massey, another cousin, summoned several men to pull him from the water. Larry Gene, 14, could not swim.

Larry Mack told Clay County authorities, "I called for help," and said one by one the others came to his aid. Each drowned in successive attempts to save him.

The ditch, 10 to 15 feet deep and 20 to 30 feet wide, is near the St. Francis River in Northeast Arkansas. Carryville is seven miles east of Piggott.

All of the Carryville youths were swimming in the ditch. The four bodies were recovered.

Cool Air Is Pumped Into Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A strong high pressure cell over the northern plains began pumping cool, dry air into Arkansas this morning as scattered showers lingered in the extreme southern portion of the state.

The next showers were not expected until the weekend and mild days and cool nights were predicted until then.

The cold front which preceded the cool air Tuesday touched off heavy showers in parts of Missouri, but rainfall amounts in Arkansas were small. Arkadelphia recorded a 24-hour total of one-third inch and Glenwood had nearly one and one-fourth inches, but other amounts across the state generally were less than five-hundredths of an inch.

High temperatures Tuesday ranged from 86 at Fayetteville to 96 at El Dorado and Camden. Overnight lows this morning ranged from the upper 50s north to the low 70s extreme south.

Highs of 82-90 were expected this afternoon and lows of 60-70 were predicted for tonight.

Temperatures during the next five days were expected to average two to four degrees below the normal highs of 90 north to 85 south and the normal lows of 65 north to 70s south.

Showers were expected to produce around one-half inch of rain over the weekend.

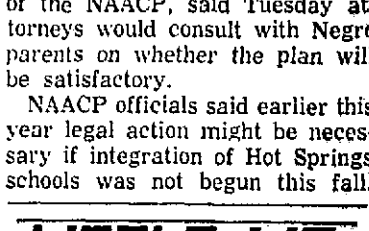

NAACP Watching Sna Intonation

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is studying a Hot Springs school integration plan to see if it is sufficient to head off "impending court action."

The Hot Springs school Board announced Monday voluntary integration of the first and second grades of the city's schools, beginning next month, but did not say how many Negro children would be affected.

NAACP officials said earlier this year legal action might be necessary if integration of Hot Springs schools was not begun this fall.

Mathematics Program Is Strengthened

Jack Benty, Principal of Hope Junior-Senior High School, announced today that the Mathematics program in Hope Junior-Senior High School consists of both traditional and modern concepts. The Prentice-Hall series Mathematics First and Second Course will be used as the basic text for the seventh and eighth grades. These books are designed to bridge the gap between the study of Arithmetic in elementary schools, and Algebra and Geometry in high schools. In the ninth grade, Algebra I and General Mathematics are offered. For first year Algebra the text is First Year Algebra by Hayden-Finan of the Allyn-Bacon series. This book is modern in approach and content. It is organized around the basic idea of set theory. Optional sections in most chapters and special projects make it adaptable for students of various levels of ability. For students who do not qualify or do not choose to take Algebra I, a course in general mathematics is offered. This text is General Mathematics, publisher L. W. Singer Company. The course of study consists mainly of arithmetic, intuitive geometry and algebra of formulas. The mathematics course for the tenth grade is a unified course in geometry, designed to give a student an understanding of plane geometry, as well as the basic theorems of solid geometry. The text A Course in Geometry, Plane and Solid published by Ginn and Company. The basic text for Algebra II is Second Year Algebra published by D. C. Heath and Company. This is the same text used last year. This text will be changed to the Allyn-Bacon series in the 1965-66 school year. Worktext of Modern Mathematics will be used as supplementary material. The basic book is a traditional algebra course and will be enriched with new ideas and concepts. Foundations of Advanced Mathematics is the text for our senior mathematics course. This deals with basic concepts of solid geometry, trigonometry, analytic geometry, calculus and advanced algebra both new and traditional. An advanced general mathematics course will be offered for those students who do not plan to go to college. Also, its content will be helpful to those who take a general mathematics course the first year in college. The course includes studies in elementary arithmetic, elementary algebra and formulas, lines in geometry and advanced arithmetic. These new developments are more numerous and more noticeable in mathematics and science than other areas. In order that we might keep our teaching materials up-to-date we will make changes in the following texts: Ninth Grade — General Science and Algebra I Eleventh Grade — Chemistry and Shorthand I Twelfth Grade — Business math will be changed to an advanced general math course to better suit the needs of the students, both as a strong terminal course and also to strengthen the math background for some students who will seek further training beyond high school tweedy wools, shetlands and alpacas, all in a new muted heather tones accented by synthetic and real leather trims used in many different ways.

It's the leather trims that add further interest to the new sweaters. You'll find suede pipings and edgings, pocket flaps and collars, as well as other real and synthetic leathers.

But the really big news is the return of the elbow "study patch" in every possible leather and synthetic, with suede leading the field.

THE STORY: Benton and Dorrus are having trouble driving a herd of wild horses back to the ranch they own in partnership.

IX

The hacienda's owner—this Don Alfredo Ybarra—I had judged would be a Spaniard of the old school, the kind who believed in the caballero legend, the horse being accepted as the hallmark of a gentleman.

These caste signs, it seemed to me, might prove of some significance in the event it should transpire that we had business to negotiate. It was because of this I had been at such pains to acquire these Waggoner horses.

It eludes me why I should have been so determined to seem socially acceptable to the man I planned to rob. It must appear an aberration—at the least some facet of an unhealthy vanity—for it was the river, remember, on which I was counting to put Villalobos in reach of Shirl's pistol.

Alfredo's thoughts, and his daughter, had nothing to do with this. Yet the compulsion, ever since I had scouted this plum, had prodded me into no little inquiry, this in turn resulting in my deal with the Waggoners, an outfit noted even then for fine horses.

Perhaps, somewhere at the back of this maneuver, I was subconsciously hunting a second string for my boy.

I refused frantically to look any closer. Tom Rock, which I had bought to head this band, was descended from a line of Colonial stock run up out of Florida by the Chickasaw Indians a couple of centuries earlier when that watery region had been called Spanish Guale. He was the scion of a particular and relatively modern strain or family established in this line by the stallion Steel Dust, with which one Mid Perry had bankrupted an entire Texas county. They were known as "speed" horses.

I had gotten Tom Rock's pedigree when I'd talked with the Waggoner foreman. Tom Rock was by Rocky Mountain Tom that was sired by Pid Hart. Pid Hart was by Shelby, he by Tom Driver, a son of Steel Dust out of Mammoth, she by Shylow. The dam of Rocky Mountain Tom was Lady Gladys, she by Bill Garner, he by Steel Dust. Pid Hart's dam was Jennie Capps, she by Dash. First dam of Lady Gladys was Manco's big filly, she by Little Bert, dam by the Old Mancoo roan race mare.

Fast getaway and terrific velocity over short distances was as common to this stock as horns on cattle, according to Waggoner's foreman.

Tom Rock's dam was a blood bay by Eureka by Shelby, second dam Mattie Stephens (also the dam of Shelby and of the celebrated Governor Roberts), by Shylow out of Nellie Gray, she by Dan Secres, he by Old Joe Chalmers the celebrated four-mile horse owned by Captain Tom Haley. Dan Secres' dam was Mary Cook by Printer, which last went direct to imported Janus, a four-mile horse on the English turf.

Janus was, apparently, a horse greatly prized. In a book Mr. Waggoner's foreman had shown me—brought out in fact for that very purpose—it said (I copied this down):

"Imported into Virginia from England in 1752, a chestnut foaled in 1746, he died the property of J. Goode, Sr. in Mecklenburg County in 1780 at the age of 34 years. He was a son of Old Janus (by the Godolphin Arabian) out of a mare by Fox. One of the greatest stallions ever imported to this country and held by many to have been unquestionably the greatest. On the English turf he had been called Little Janus and stood 14 hands three-quarters inch. He has been described as having 'extra powerful' hind legs and was 'remarkable for roundness of contour, strength of articulation, and indicating great powers in his whole conformation.' His stock partook of these qualities in an eminent degree and, for 30 or 40 years were considered a 'peculiar' stock, as they invariably exhibited even in the third and fourth generations from the old horse the same compactness of form, strength and power. The Janus stock have exceeded all others in the United States for speed, durability and general uniformity of good form."

The Waggoner horses, as I have already mentioned, were described to me as having been bred in speed crammed blood - lines. Rocky Mountain Tom was rumored to have twice defeated the great race mare Panzarita, which

As you may imagine I was naturally counting on some of this breeding to have come down to Tom Rock. But whether it had or not, it looked well on paper.

in Hot Springs today for the first time, but there apparently was no connection with the resort city's gambling.

U.S. District Judge John E. Miller had said he called the jury to Hot Springs as a personal convenience since he is trying the Q Byrum Hurst income tax evasion trial in the resort.

Miller told the 21 jurors in his instructions today that there were 30 cases to be investigated but as far as he knew, none were "earth-shaking."

He said the jury might finish its work Thursday.

Four Negro men and one Negro woman were among the jurors. Jeff Black of Arkadelphia was named foreman.

DOROTHY DIX

OFFICE SIREN
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: This is not my personal problem but it does involve a friend. We have an office female who secretly dates a nice, married man in our firm. He can't keep his eyes off her, and he is a good man with a fine wife and children! Thank God these children are grown, married and not around to see what's going on.

His wife found bobby pins and different things in his car. He said their daughter dropped them. His wife believes him. She works her fingers to the bone, holds down two jobs and stays up late at night, ironing his shirts while he gallivants with this siren.

I see the girl meet him in her car every morning, see him pick his wife up after work and see that girl shake her fist at the poor woman.

I could cry for I know them all but so far haven't uttered a word except to the girl; begged her to see the light and know that if this man truly loved her, he would divorce. The girl just laughed in my face and said the wife is the unlucky one, not being attractive enough to hold him. The girl says she doesn't want the guy for keeps, only what she can get out of him now. Brother, is he paying! This gal will break up anybody's marriage. I only hope that some day the wife catches up with them. Then, who will do the suffering? Should I keep quiet? Thanks for listening. I feel better for the telling. — Just a Friend

Dear Friend: Perhaps your office companions will get their just desserts—whatever they may be. Perhaps they won't. In either case it's not your responsibility to interfere. Witnessing injustice from the sidelines requires great self-control, but that is clearly indicated in this situation.

You've already spoken to one apex of the triangle to no avail. She not only revealed her true colors, but also expressed a certain amount of cold, cruel truth in accusing the man's wife of not being attractive enough to hold him. No really strong marriage can be split by a third person. I'm convinced. So when you say, "This gal will break up anybody's marriage," I must contradict you. The only marriage she can break up is one that is already foundering.

Dear Helen: Being the youngest, all my family thinks they can push me around. I'm the underdog. If my sister and I fight, she wins, right or wrong. My mother criticizes me before others say so. She wishes I'd turn out different. If there is something to be done in the house, my father makes me do it. When the dog messes, he's "my" dog and I must clean up after him. Otherwise he's their dog and I can't touch him. I buy my own school books with money I earn baby sitting, so I do know the value of a dollar. My sister gets all the money she wants and spends it with no thought of how hard it is to earn a dollar.

The family thinks her an angel and me a devil. When I fight with other kids they side against me. I'm forever lending them things but they wouldn't even give me the right time. I've run away again and again but they always find me. I'm afraid of doing something drastic now. Please help me. —Desperate

Dear Desperate: Yes, you do need help, but you're the one to provide it. And you should do something drastic—about yourself. It sounds to me as if you had a persecution complex. Everyone is against you, you claim.

Assuming that this is true (which I don't believe), I wonder if you have ever asked yourself and attempted to answer the question, "Why?" It may be that your personality needs overhauling. All of us have a bit of the angel and the devil in us, and life is a ceaseless conflict between the two.

Try a little experiment. Instead of concentrating on how others treat you, think about your effect on your parents, sisters, and friends. Regardless of your feelings about them, contribute something to their happiness. Make a game out of trying to inspire nothing but favorable reactions.

There are innumerable kindnesses of word and deed which you can have the fun of performing if you will change your outlook from the selfish emphasis on what others can do for you to what you can do for others.

Dear Helen: I come from the wrong side of the tracks. My parents are always drunk. My boy friend wants me to clope, I am 16 and he is 18 though we look much older; so would have to fib about our ages.

I love him and he loves me but, while home is hell, I hope to straighten out my life first and be somebody. I try to reform myself by going to church and feel ashamed of my old clothes, even though I sit in the last pew and slip out before services end. My folks wouldn't miss me if I did marry. Should I? —Trouble Teenager

Dear Teenager: Although marriage may look like an immediate solution to your problems, it should never be considered an escape.

At 16 your chief obligation is to complete your education. Many successful men and women have come from the so-called "wrong side of the tracks." Which side of the tracks you live on isn't nearly so important as staying on the right track and avoiding possible derailment in the form of an unhappy marriage.

Intelligent people whose respect you care about, judge you on your own merits and not on your parents'. Going to church could supply the strength to rise above your home situation. Remember that you and the rest of the congregation are there to worship God. How you are dressed is secondary.

have been demonstrated," he added, "the parties may wish to modify the treaty to permit extension of the technology and benefits to all."

The Foreign Relations group, with members of the Armed Services and Senate-House Atomic Energy Committees sitting in, is holding hearings on the treaty to prohibit testing in the atmosphere, underwater and in outer space, but not underground. Senate ratification requires a two-thirds majority.

While McNamara conceded that atmospheric testing of a complete antimissile system would not be possible under the treaty, he insisted that kind of testing would "not be necessary to reach a decision on whether or not we should deploy the system."

"We have tested the design of the warhead to the extent that we know it will work," he said.

high-yield nuclear tests in the atmosphere in 1961 advanced their understanding of such a system, but he added he didn't believe the Soviet Union has developed a workable system. Now, he said, has the United States.

While Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., raised the issue in questioning McNamara, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said in a statement that President Kennedy has "seemingly sentenced to death" the development of such a system by saying the project is "beyond us."

Goldwater said he wanted "ironclad assurance that antimissile development will not be inhibited by the treaty or the President's personal pessimism."

McNamara testified that an effective defense against missiles can be developed without further atmospheric testing.

The core of his testimony was a contention that the United States has nuclear warheads "in the tens of thousands" and that the treaty would help preserve a U.S. lead over the Soviet Union.

He gave his "unequivocal support" to ratification and sought to assure the Senate of U.S. determination to maintain a nuclear force he called "manifestly superior to the Soviet Union's."

Under questioning by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, McNamara said he believed all his military advisers, including the Joint Chiefs of Staff, consider the treaty, with its safeguards, "compatible with the security of the United States."

Spahn Sets a Record in Win Over Dodgers

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

It was all very simple. No big blaring, bombs, bursting, or lightning flashing.

Hawk-nosed old Warren Spahn simply cranked up his 42-year-old arm and threw a third strike past Bob Miller of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Hardly unusual. Old Spahn had done that sort of thing only 2,381 times before. Later he raised his record to 2,383.

But this was the one that put him in the record book. It broke Rube Waddell's 53-year record of 2,381 strikeouts by a left-hander and brought the Milwaukee marv one of the few pitching records still eluding him.

"You always think about records being set with a big, dramatic act," Spahn said Tuesday night. "But in the seventh Miller just stood there and took the third strike, and that's all there was to it."

Spahn finished with five strikeouts in the 4-3 victory over the Dodgers for a career total of 2,383. The victory was his third without loss this season against Los Angeles, his 14th over-all, and 341st of his career.

The Dodgers, however, maintained their four-game National League lead when the second-place San Francisco Giants were stopped 4-0 on two hits by Cincinnati's Jim Maloney.

St. Louis closed to within five games of the leaders and one of the Giants by beating Houston 4-2 in the only other National League game played. Pittsburgh at New York was rained out, and Philadelphia and Chicago were not scheduled.

In the American League, the leading New York Yankees were rained out in Boston, Chicago shut out Cleveland 3-0, Baltimore beat Minnesota 6-1, Kansas City edged Detroit 4-2 and Los Angeles

Crackers Defeat the Travelers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Atlanta Crackers dropped Arkansas 4-3 in an International League baseball game Tuesday night, putting the Travelers 2½ games behind for second place in the southern division.

Atlanta holds the second place spot.

In other games Jacksonville dropped Richmond 6-4, Columbus beat Rochester 2-0 and Indianapolis dropped Syracuse 5-1. The Toronto at Buffalo game was rained out.

Harry Fanok picked up his fourth straight victory Tuesday night in besting the Travelers' Jack Hamilton. Fanok has won eight of his last nine games and is the Crackers' first 10-game winner.

Johnny Lewis brought in two runs for the Crackers with a first-inning triple, but Richie Allen's three-bagger in the third drove in the tying run.

Doug Clemens drove in a solo score in the fifth with a double, and Joe Morgan's homer in the seventh sacked the game for the broke a seven-game losing string 4-3 against Washington.

Spahn's victory, in his first start since he was sidelined with arm trouble July 29, was particularly gratifying. It came at the expense of the only club which has an edge against him. He went into the game with a career record of 21-34 against the Dodgers and had to work hard to pull it out.

The Dodgers pulled into a 3-3 tie with a run in the sixth, but Denis Menke's sacrifice fly drove in Hank Aaron with the tie-breaker for the Braves in the eighth.

Maloney, a 6-foot-2 right-hander, allowed only singles to Felipe Alou and Harvey Kuenn, struck out seven Giants and walked only one in posting his 18th victory of the season for Cincinnati. He got all the backing he needed on two-run homers by Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson.

Colts Giving Game Back to Players

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Shula, the new coach of the Baltimore Colts, got the job because Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the club, said he wanted to "give the game back to the football players."

Rosenbloom is enthusiastic about the progress made by Shula in his first head coaching job. In their first pre-season game, the Colts defeated Philadelphia 26-21. They play the Cleveland Browns Saturday night in the second half of a doubleheader at Cleveland.

"Team spirit is vitally important in any game, especially in pro football," said Rosenbloom. "It is important that all the players want to play for the coach."

Rosenbloom, who fired Weeb Ewbank last winter after the end of the National Football League season and hired Shula to replace him, had only the best to say for Ewbank, now coach of the New York Jets in the rival American Football League.

"Weeb believes that the coach is supreme," he said. "I wanted to set up committees of the players to handle fines for any infractions," said Rosenbloom. "Weeb didn't think that was the way to handle it."

"People said that we got rid of Weeb because he used Lenny Moore as an inside runner. That wasn't the case at all. I don't think Weeb was wrong in doing that. Shula is doing it too. I think Don expects to let Lenny run the option play more than Weeb did."

"In fairness to Weeb, I do think we would have done better last year if it had not been for injuries. Remember, we lost Moore for six weeks."

Rosenbloom said he had been impressed by Shula since his days as a defensive halfback with the Colts.

Chisox Move Up Some With a Victory

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

Dave DeBusschere, 22, felt so tall today he probably could rebound against Wilt Chamberlain.

The reason for that wonderful feeling was a 3-0, six-hitter over the Cleveland Indians that gave the Chicago White Sox rookie hurler his first complete game, his first shutout, and his first victory over an American League team other than the 10th-place Washington Senators.

A 6-foot-6, 225-pounder who made the basketball big league with the Detroit Pistons last winter, big Dave now has a 3-4 record for the season. The other two wins were over the Senators, so you couldn't blame the right-hander for feeling that he finally had made the baseball majors with the whitewash job over the first-division Indians Tuesday night.

The victory moved the runner-up White Sox within 8½ games of the league-leading New York Yankees, who were rained out at Boston, and 2 games in front of the Minnesota Twins who were trounced 6-1 by the fourth-place Baltimore Orioles. The Los Angeles Angels snapped a seven-game losing streak by edging the Senators 4-3, and the Kansas City Athletics beat the Detroit Tigers, 4-2.

In the National League, Warren Spahn, 42, took over the left-handed strikeout record with 2,383 in tumbling the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3; the Cincinnati Reds blanked the San Francisco Giants 4-0; and the St. Louis Cardinals topped Houston's Colts, 4-2. Pittsburgh was rained out at New York in the other scheduled game.

DeBusschere paid off a chunk of his $70,000 bonus with a poised performance against the Indians at Chicago. He was in trouble only in the fourth inning when the Indians loaded the bases on singles by Tito Francona, John Romano and Al Luplow. He got Max Alvis to end the inning and set the Indians down with two hits the rest of the way.

Steve Barber, the Orioles' speedball southpaw, boosted his record to 16-9 on a fine eight-hitter that advanced the club within half a game of the home Twins. Barber fanned nine and walked one. Harmon Killebrew spoiled the youngster's bid for his third shutout with an eighth-inning homer, his 27th.

The Angels went through the wringer at Los Angeles in finally ending their losing spell. What proved to be the winning run came in the eighth on Billy Morane's double, relief pitcher Ron Kline's wild pitch and Ed Sadowski's squeeze bunt.

In the top of the eighth the Senators had the Angels on the ropes, but two fine plays by shortstop Jim Fregosi saved it.

What every woman who ever drives alone should know about her car

HERE ARE SOME motoring tips and hints for our lady customers only. The information isn't technical. But it's important information that could save you time and trouble.

1. What to do if your car won't start. First, check the obvious. Do you have fuel? (If you have run out, don't feel too bad—over 5,000 motorists do it every day.)

If you have an automatic transmission, is the gear selector lever at exactly the right spot? Check—and make sure.

It's also a good idea to push the accelerator pedal all the way down—and release it quickly—just before you attempt to start. Now, try the starter again in bursts of 2 or 3 seconds. Still no go? Let your engine rest for three or four minutes. Try once more—this time with slightly longer bursts. If your engine still balks, give your Shell dealer a call.

2. How to recognize carburetor icing stalls—plus a tip to help prevent them.

This ever happened to you on a damp, chilly day? Your car starts promptly. You drive a short distance to the first stop sign—and you stall. You have no trouble restarting. But, at the next intersection, you stop—and stall again. Then, the stalls disappear—just as mysteriously as they came. That's a typical case of carburetor icing. If your car has this trouble, try Super Shell gasoline. One of its 9 working ingredients is an anti-icer that fights carburetor icing stalls.

3. In a lightning storm, your car is one of the safest places you can be. So don't be terrified if there's lightning all around you. When the rain starts to fall, slow down and proceed with care. If the rain pours down so hard that you can't see well, pull all the way off the road and wait until the storm lets up. Note: if you must stop, don't park under a tree or on a surface that could bog you down.

4. An important warning that your brakes can give you—and what to do about it. When your car is standing still, push down on your brake pedal. Does the pedal feel "mushy" or sink slowly to the floorboard? If so, there's trouble in your car's hydraulic braking system. See your Shell dealer right away.

5. How to avoid being locked out. Tape an extra car key on some secret place outside your car. It must be reachable—even if all your doors are locked.

Another tip to save fuss and bother: carry some dimes in a sealed envelope in your glove compartment. They could come in handy—for use in a roadside pay telephone—should your car act up.

6. What to do in case of emergency on a highway. If you have a flat tire, or if something mysterious goes wrong with your car, pull all the way off the road. Raise the hood. Tie a handkerchief—or something white—on the door-handle nearest the road. These are distress signals on virtually all roadways. Stay near your car but back from the road. You should have help before long.

7. How to cut the chances of a breakdown almost in half. The American Automobile Association reports that flat tires, weak batteries, and faulty electrical systems account for 45 percent of all car breakdowns. Your Shell dealer can help you keep these things from causing trouble. Let him check your car regularly. After all, service is his business.

SHELL DEALERS DE-BUNK A MYTH ABOUT CAR CARE

It's a myth that you must break in a new car at low speeds

Used to be that new cars had to be "broken in" very gently. You weren't supposed to go over 45 mph for the first 1500 miles or so. Now, automotive experts recommend that you take your car out on a highway every so often and drive at the legal speed limit for a while. That's the real lowdown. You can count on your Shell dealer for straight facts and honest work. See him regularly.
